Sponsor Prospectus

The National Native Title Council, Australia's Peak Native Title Organisation, and the Federation of Victorian Traditional Owner Corporations are pleased to be hosting the 2019 Native Title Conference: Land, Rights and Recognition in Melbourne on 3 and 4 June 2019. The venue for the Conference is the MCG.

More than 500 delegates from across Australia are expected to converge on Melbourne for the conference that will bring together the land rights and native title movement with the development of First Nations Treaties and Constitutional Recognition.

It promises to be a watershed in the new era of relations between Indigenous and non-Indigenous Australian.

Day 1 of the Conference is open to delegates generally. It will feature national and internationally prominent speakers addressing role of land rights and land rights organisations in a National Indigenous Voice to the Parliament and how these may interact with the outcomes of state-based treaties, such as that currently under development in Victoria. The day conclude with a Gala Mabo Day Dinner in the Dining Room of the MCG.

Day 2 of the Conference is open only to members and employees of Native Title and other Land Rights Organisations. The day will include specialist sessions on critical issues such as land and compensation claims, PBC Governance, native title anthropology and sustainable economic development.
